

Military Memorial – June News

Nancy Hartley of Raleigh framed these medals that belonged to her husband, John's father. He was a major stationed in the Philippines during World War II and these treasures were found in his army trunk after he passed away. She and John gave the piece to their grandson, a history buff, who loved and respected his grandfather very much. He had spent many hours talking with his grandfather about his war experiences and was very touched to be given these medals.

We used a rust red linen mat and raised it off of the back mat to keep the glass from touching the medals. You could call it a modified shadow box. The frame has that antique finish that was perfect for the World War II time frame. Thank you, Nancy and John, for sharing this with us.
